A Juried Fine Art & Craft Show

Presented by Coastal Discovery Museum

Dear Artist,

Thank you for your interest in The Art Market at Historic Honey Horn. We are looking forward to our event in 2022! This will be the 21st year that we have hosted this fine art and craft show.

The Hilton Head Island area is supportive of artists and many visitors may plan their stays around the dates of the show.

The Coastal Discovery Museum presents this juried show at Honey Horn, a 68-acre historic property on Hilton Head Island, South Carolina. Picturesque Honey Horn is a preferred site for community festivals and events. Hope you can join us at this year's Art Market.

Sincerely,

Coastal Discovery Museum

All artists must provide equipment needed for their booth space. Each booth must be secured with proper weights. Artists are responsible for any damage caused to or by their equipment or displays.

Only artists displaying their original artwork may operate the booth. No agents, resellers, production works, or buy/sell is permitted. The Coastal Discovery Museum reserves the right to remove unsuitable works or vendors at the time of the show and booth fees will not be refunded.

If two artists collaborate on a body of work, each artist must be listed on the application and both must be present at the show.

A convenient exhibitor parking area is provided near booths. Artists may leave trailers overnight on site in a designated area. Overnight security is onsite Friday and Saturday evenings and the property is gated and monitored by security cameras.
